may contribute to do away with every cause of difficulty between the I nited States and Spain; and I will labor with a siduity and constancy towards the devel pment of the inter-sta and prosperity of the two nations. Allow are, madam, to express, in an lusion, the sincere views I entertain for the mappiness and welfare of your royal person and of your family.

The Queen replied:

"Monsteur le Ministre: I have heard with much leasure the expression of friendship you have diressel to m in the name of the President of the United States, in presenting the letters which accorded you to me as Euvoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the Confederation; and I am happy to be able to assure you, that you may make it known to the President, that the sentiments which animate me for his person are not less friendly. I desire as carnestly as the noble American people to beh lid drawn closer the old good relations which happily exist between Spain and the United States: and I doubt not that for your part, you will contribute to the result, equally advantageous for the two uations, by seconding the desire of whica my government has given proof to put as the distance of the United States. I give ye u thanks for the wiscase you farm for my well-re and that of my transite all motives of ditheulty with the government of the United States. I give ye u thanks for the wasses you farm for my well-re and that of my the waste you form for my well-re and that of my the waste you form for my well-re and that of my the waste you form for my well-re and that of my the contribute to the result, equally advantageous for the two uations, by second-nights.

at my court the welcome which is due to your highly distinguished personal qualities."

This was nothing more, of course, than a repetition of the expressions that had passed in their first interview between the American Envoy and the Spanish Minister of Loreigu Affairs, in which both had concurred in a most cortial understanding of settling a miceably all the questions pending between the 1/s countries.

The Hon. Mr. Dodge was also accompanied in his official visits by the Scerelary of Legation, Mr. Perry, much to the astonishment, I must add, of many who deemed that thogodical race of the former American Minister's secretary was run, and turs for many an obvious reason, which I do not leed justified for the present in dwelfing typen.

The Sack of Kerich.

The following correspondence has been forwarded to us for publication. It would seem to show that, whatever blame may attach to the General in command of the expedition, none can be attributed to the authorities at home for the excesses comitted at Kertch and Yenikale:

Ill. of Paumure will telegraph to Lord Raglan to give orders for the protection of the Museum and other works of art at Kertch. We cannot be sure of reaching Sir E. Lyons, who is at the upper end of the Black Sea. I remain, dear sir, yours bruly, C. WO(II).

in Ni aragua. It is said that the cholera books out on the Northern Light, and several passengers died on the homeward voyage:

VINGUE BAY, Jame DA.

The state of a Tairs here is a perfeel chao. Ou account of the cholera, the population of this place as been reduced from about 200 to less than 25.

All the employers of the Trans t Company, in the cholera, and, I suppose, also, on account of Colonel Waiker's landing at Tola, six leagues from Rivas, with 200 man of the Dome seratic party.

Yo terl ly, from 2 mil 12 chock, there was fighing and firing in Rivas, and when I was not the Half-way House hurrying up some leaguage, four teem of the Democritic party came in, in a great hurry, and without any warring to the house, saying that they meant to take San Juan.

Lat r news easy that all the Leoneses ran away, and only some of the C louel's party bave been left fighting in Rivas. They took from us und others fifty mules or more, and, is everybody was ared to death, the company was olliged to hire inthese at trem arbus prices, and could susceed entyly entivening the spirits of the men with sufficient quantities of iquer.

The fillusters are sail to have pesse ion of livis and may get San Juan. (This praved to le the fact after the letter was written, Almast the whole of the Transit Company's people have deserted. There are here no agents, no money, no books, no people, no steamer—nothing but death and confusion—no servants to get water from this lake, nor even to trim lamps.
